Process for Zoning Permits Cases Requiring a Public Hearing

1	Application materials reviewed for completeness.	Review is conducted within approximately 30 days from application submittal. If additional materials/information is required, they will be requested. Requirement for an initial study is determined during initial review. If an initial study is required, you will be notified to pay an additional environmental assessment fee.
2	Other County departments review project (if applicable).	Other department comments are submitted to DRP within approximately 30 to 60 days of request. If clearance is not received, their comments are sent to the applicant.
3	Case routed to queue for assignment.	Due to the backlog of cases, the wait for assignment may be a couple months from step 2.
4	Case assigned to planner.	The applicant will be contacted by the case planner after the case has been assigned and evaluated. Upon more in depth review, the planner may request project revisions, revised plans or additional permits and related fees.
5	Environmental review conducted.	Special studies to be used for environmental analysis may be required at this time.
6	Staff report drafted.
7	Public hearing scheduled.	Generally, hearings are held approximately one year from file date if the applicant complies with requests in a timely manner. The processing time may be longer for complex or controversial projects. The hearing notice is published at least 30-days prior to hearing. A copy of the hearing notice is sent to the applicant.
8	Hearing package prepared.	A copy of the hearing package, including staff report, is sent to the applicant two weeks prior to hearing.
9	Public hearing held.	The determination (approval/denial) is effective, unless appealed, within 14 days. The determination package is mailed to the applicant within approximately 24 hours of the hearing.
10	Case closed out.	If approved, the applicant submits recorded affidavit, conditions and inspection fees. The approved plans are provided to the applicant and Building & Safety.
11	Applicant proceeds to building permit phase.

The above process is a summary only. More detailed information is available at: http://planning.lacounty.gov/assets/upl/apps/zoning-permit_application_flowchart.pdf. For questions about the process, please call (213) 974-6443, -6435 or - 6462 and ask to speak to the Planner of the Day.
