Los Angeles County is working on a new neighborhood-based plan for the area between Los Angeles Southwest College and Metro's Green Line Vermont/Athens Station. Some questions we'll explore:

- What types of new homes, businesses and facilities should be encouraged?
- How tall should buildings be allowed to be built and how close together?
- What investments in sewer, water, transportation and parks are needed and how should they be paid for?
- How can the streets be made safer for pedestrians and bicyclists?
- How can rail, bus and Link shuttle service be better coordinated?

Can't make it to a workshop?
